

SAFETY ALERT - TECHNICAL No.12

LIFERAFT RECALL

Recently it has been brought to our attention that BFA marine has identified some overpressure valve failures on BFA Marine liferafts in use.

This could result in a major air leak or even a failure of a compartment of the life raft to inflate.

ACTION - As a preventive measure, it is advised by BFA Marine to take your liferaft to the nearest BFA marine approved service station, in order to check and potentially replace these overpressure valves.
