

Women's transport issues

This section contains information on understanding the transport needs of women and includes strategies and approaches that could be used to promote their greater usage of existing facilities.

Women's Transport Network

The Women's Transport Network aims to promote safe and accessible environments and encourage women to progress in the transport industry.

Women and public transport: The checklist

The checklist is a series of statements, against which managers are asked to check current practice and service provision.

Published:
08 May 2000

Public transport gender audit evidence base

The report includes a wide-ranging literature search and uses focus-groups to identify and explore the factors which affect women's experience and enjoyment (or not) of public transport.

Published:
05 June 2000

In-car safety and the personal security needs of female drivers and passengers

A study into in-car safety and personal security needs of female drivers and passengers.

Published:
11 August 2004

For related documents, pages and internet links, see the column on the right.