

Investigation of Accidents

The Rail Accident Investigation Branch (RAIB) is the UK's independent investigator of rail accidents. RAIB investigates railway accidents to establish the cause; and produces reports with recommendations on preventing similar incidents. These reports are published on their website.