

Concessionary bus travel

Concessionary bus fares scheme offer discounted travel on local public transport for older and disabled people. The Government wants to ensure that bus travel, in particular, remains within the means of those on limited incomes and those who have mobility difficulties. This supports our wider work to tackle social exclusion. Bus travel remains the most used form of public transport, especially by older people.

On April 1st 2008 the local entitlement for free bus travel was extended to allow bus travel throughout England. It means that whether using the bus locally, or when visiting other parts of the country, older and disabled people will be able to travel for free.

Information for the public

Information for local authorities and bus operators

Concessionary Bus Legislation

For related documents, pages and internet links, see the column on the right.