

Railways for All Strategy

The Railways for All Strategy explains what Great Britain's Railway Industry is doing to improve access for disabled people. It describes what is being done to improve information, stations and trains and explains how the £370m Access for All funding will be used to improve access at stations.

Hardcopies and audio versions are available on request by contacting railwaysforall@dft.gsi.gov.uk

Railways for All Strategy

The Railways for All Strategy - the accessibility strategy for Great Britain's Railways.

Published:

06 April 2006

Railways for All Strategy (353 kb)

Downloadable PDF version of the Railways for All Strategy - the accessibility strategy for Great Britain's Railways.

Published:

23 March 2006

Railways for All Strategy (3 Mb)

Easy Read version of the Railways for All Strategy - the accessibility strategy for Great Britain's Railways.

Published:

23 March 2006

Railways for All: Conference Document (March 2005) (88 kb)

Previously published on SRA website. Papers from conference on "Railways for all".

Published:

23 August 2006

Notes on station usage (14 kb)

Previously published on SRA website. To be read in conjunction with Railways For All.

Published:

23 August 2006

Station usage (please read notes on station usage on opening) (456 kb)

Previously published on SRA website. To be read in conjunction with Railways For All.

Published:

23 August 2006
