

---

Community and Voluntary Transport

---

This section contains information on the operation of voluntary and community transport in Britain where this affects disabled and elderly people. The reports examine the success of these schemes and try to assess where central and local initiatives have helped or hindered their development.

Review of voluntary transport: Main report

This project was commissioned to take a detailed look at the operation of voluntary and community transport in Britain.

Published:

15 December 2005

---

Review of voluntary transport: Summary report

This paper is a summary of the Final Report. The project was commissioned to take a detailed look at the operation of voluntary and community transport in Britain.

Published:

15 December 2005

---

For related documents, pages and internet links, see the column on the right.