3 The Labour Force Survey (LFS) moved to publishing calendar quarters in May 2006. The survey previously published seasonal quarters where March-May months covered the spring quarter, June-August was summer and so forth. This will now change to calendar quarters as part of an EU requirement for all member states to have an LFS based on calendar quarters. LFS micro data will be available for January-March (Q1), April-June (Q2), July-September (Q3) and October-December (Q4). An article on the impact and issues associated with the move to calendar quarters is available at the link: <http://www.statistics.gov.uk/ccil/article.asp?ID=1546>

4 Includes non transport related occupations in transport industries

NB: Data for some cells are not shown because they fall below the 10 thousand LFS reliability threshold.
